FCA Leadership in 2 Corinthians 9:24, “Paul tells us that the Christian life is like a race. But he doesn’t say ‘try your best.’” He says ‘run to win.’ And that is what we are doing at FCA - running to win hearts and souls for Christ through the influence of athletes and coaches. We are grateful to all of you running with us.”

2006 was largely “a year on the road” for Les Steckel, FCA President, since March 1, 2005, in hundreds of meetings and events across America, he listened to the hearts of staff and volunteers, inspired athletes and coaches to a personal relationship with Christ, and emphasized the critical need to put Christian character back in sports today.

In 2006, Les Steckel published his first book, “Due Date: Tearing Your Own Heart Out,” teaching coaches to live their experiences as a former NFL coach and high school football coach. Not and husband how to trust God for the future despite whatever disappointments life brings.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes began as a result of a critical need to put Christian character back in sports today.

In 2006 Coach Steckel published his first book, "Defeats Into Victories".

With your greatly valued support, we are indeed putting To reach and teach a nation what it means to play with heart and soul is a goal that and coaches who play with heart, you've got to first feed their soul. remain passionately committed to our vision to see the world impacted for Jesus Christ through the influence of athletes and coaches.

In 2006, FCA hosted 3666 schools, fellowships and worship services at 10,000 national coach's conventions which were attended by more than 40,000 coaches. Baseball, football and basketball have first steps toward FCA involvement. In addition, we continued our Coaches Camps and marriage conferences, both designed to give coaches and their families a chance to enrich their lives together.

Also, now in 2006 was the launch of our Coaches Ministry Director School, in which staff with a passion to minister specifically to coaches are being fully equipped to do so. We also published the new Coach's Bible that includes 365 daily devotionals written just for coaches. That way we can have the school on fire for God.

For many young people, FCA Camp is the turning point of my life. I’ve been involved in camps throughout our country. When you help send a young person to FCA Camp, you literally are changing a life. – Touchdown Alexander, Seattle Seahawks Running Back

COACHES Ministry

Coaches are often the most important adult role model in the lives of young people. Usually untrained and under equipped, their influence impacts hundreds of thousands of athletes, students, parents and fans long after the final whistle. Through outreach events, training, resources and conferences, FCA encourages coaches to cultivates a biblical heart for coaching, for their players and for God.

In 2006, FCA reached 33,150 student-athletes on 6,623 junior high, high school and college campuses in FCA sports called “Huddles.” Student-athletes lead the Huddles, supported by coach and parent volunteers. FCA charged the leadership to pray, encourage and learn practical ways to impact their faith. Our goal is to help them grow into mature men and women fully equipped to live and compete for Christ.

FCA’s One Way To Play Drug Free program remains a potent force as a time when public schools have closed their doors to Christian influence. The drug program began in 1991, students across the country have committed to playing alcohol and drug-free. In 2006 alone, more than 43,000 coaches attended our Drug Free program, which were attended by more than 43,000 coaches.

Field of Faith began in 2004, inspired by an ICA staff person. That year 6,000 students gathered on athletic fields in Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas to come to faith in Jesus Christ. In 2006, Field of Faith became a national event. An estimated 50,000 people across the country participated with 4,653 commitments to Christ and 8,019 committing to reading the Bible daily.

COMMUNITY Ministry

As FCA we have a huge opportunity to reach the millions of youth who participate in sports and who are not reached through our current Camps or Camp Ministries. Our strategy is to minister to a community of people, parents and athletes who are united around a particular sport outside of the traditional school setting such as club, league, and church. We currently have established sport-specific ministries in golf, lacrosse, baseball, cross-country, football and endurance sports.

Incredibly important are the thousands of community volunteers who help FCA carry our message. These include local Leadership Boards, Adult Booster Clubs and Adult Huddles. With innovative local community outreach events like golf scrambles and various college football bowl game breakfasts, we are constantly exploring new ways to tap into the passions of sports and to share the power of God's love.
